

The New York Times

Guilford Free Library's New York Times digital subscription provides access to NYTimes.com from any computer or device, as well as access to the NYT app on portable devices. Enjoy NY Times articles, blog posts, video, slide shows and other multimedia features.

When accessing from home, you will need to visit this page first and click the ACCESS NEW YORK TIMES ONLINE link. From there you will use a Redeem code that provides access for a 72 hour period. There is now limit to how many codes you can use, so you can keep coming back for more content.

How do I access The New York Times online?

1. Click on the red "Access The New York Times" button below and follow the steps to create your account. *Note: If you are accessing from inside the library (using the library's WiFi or public computers) all you need to do is sign in to The New Times website. No redeem code is required when accessing from inside the library.
2. You will be redirected to the Redeem Code page. Click in the white box where it says CODE and the code will appear as a drop down.
3. Click on the code and then click REDEEM.
